San Miguel Christmas Parade

by George W. Editor; photos by the author

On December 17, the club participated in the Annual San Miguel Christmas Parade. The parade is an interesting event in that we start on the north end of town drive down Mission Street to the small triangular park just north of the Mission, go around the park, drive back up Mission Street to where we started. SO everyone gets to see the floats going and coming and even the participants get to see all the other entries at least once. We started gathering about an hour or so before the parade was to start and started decorating our vehicles. Most of use were using 120 volt light strings with an inverter to power them. LED strings go a long way while putting very little load on the vehicles electrical system! Those participating included John and Buzz J., Phil B., Dan H., Jim B. and family, Eric F.,

Mojave Monument New Years Run

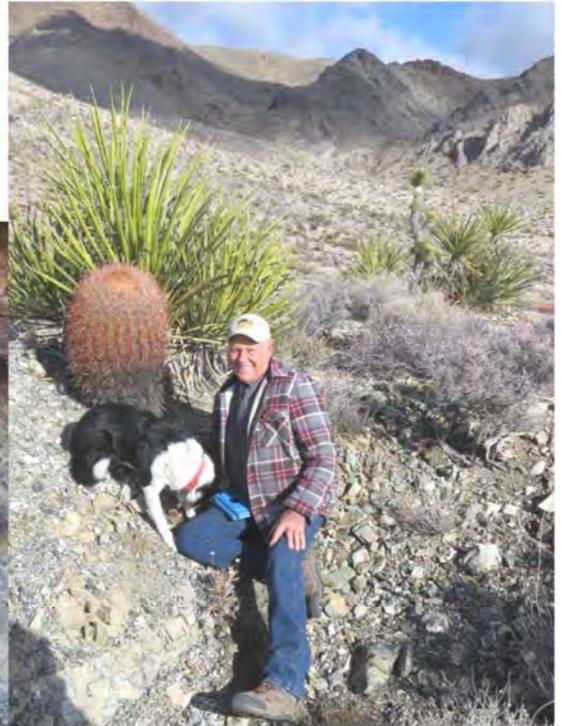

by John J

Randy P and I (John J) met up with Jeepers we have traveled with before. We headed for Nipton Ca, which is on the highway to Searchlight Nevada.

The town has a store, motel, and RV

Park. You have to like railroads because the mile long trains go right by there, day and night.

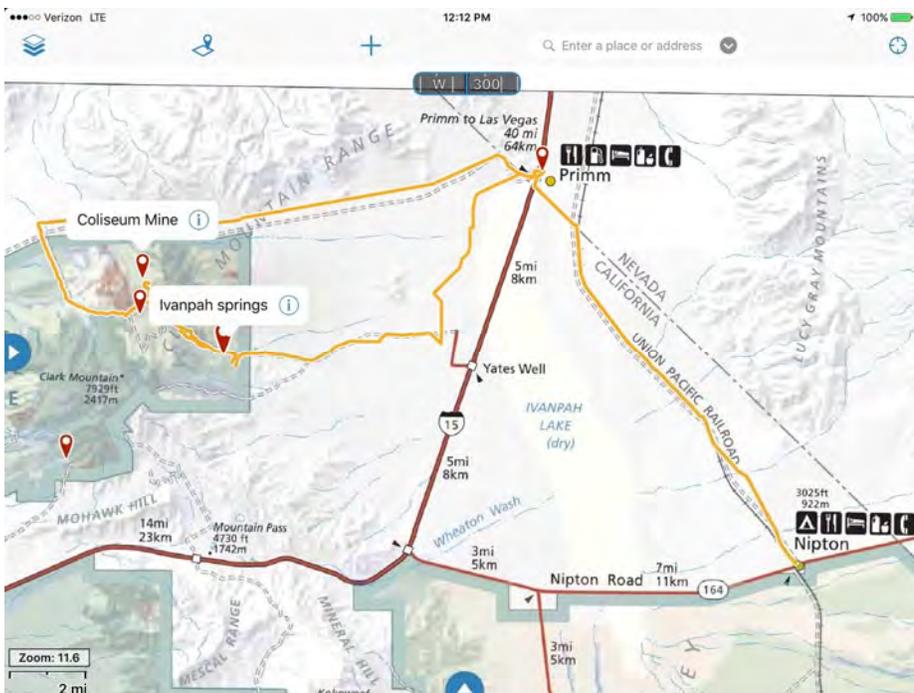

Our first outing was at Valley Wells Copper mine. This was quite Interesting because they dumped all the Copper Slag on the ground and it made quite a neat surface to walk on. It was almost like concrete, glass, black as Cole. We found houses dug in the river bank where the workers lived. This would make sense because the summer heat reaches 120 or more.

We motored to the Lava Tubes, which were a little spooky, but fun to ladder down to. They are giant air pockets in the Lava, some were 20 feet wide and 100 feet long just like a giant round tunnel.

We could see the 3 huge Ivenpah Valley Solar plant from the R V park. We drove around them on day 2, on our way to the Coliseum Mine. Boy this was a sight. It is a open pit mine about 300 feet down, with about 100 feet of water in the bottom. We went down the haul road to the bottom and it's a real trip looking back up into the sky from the bottom.

We were able to get fuel in Prim NV and Searchlight. The road we took to Prim followed the Rail Road down a sandy wash. So as Jeepers we would off road it to town and off road it back.

The next day we went to follow the Mojave Heritage Trail, which was a wagon route, and the Ivenpah Searchlight trail.

The start of the trip we topped a hill and looked over the biggest Joshua Tree forest I have ever seen. It went for miles and thick as a forest. I have been wheeling in the Desert for about eight years and have never seen a collection of trees like this.

Following the Heritage Trail , we went through vast canyons, and large flats with the plant life changing every five or so miles.

We skirted the Castle Mountains which are a sight. I forgot some where we wound up at the Kelso Rail Road Station. This is like stepping back in time. The state takes care of it and it's in excellent shape. A great museum to boot!

The next day we stayed closer to camp and went to the Evening Star Mine and found two old cabins that were kept in shape by someone. But if you were stranded you could hold up in them. They had wood stoves and tables and chairs.

I went back with another Jeep that was having mechanical trouble , so Randy P and the 14 other Jeeps went to look at more mines.

I didn't go on the last days run , our dog got sick and we Jeeped to Vegas to get her fixed up.

Randy P has a ton of pictures and we are going to try to get some in with this story.

Remember to ask Randy why we all had our hands up with the CHP parked in front of us!

Happy New Year Everyone

Christmas Party

By George W, Editor; photos by the author

The Christmas Party, this year as in last year, was held at the Templeton Community Center on December 3rd.

Several members got there early to decorate and others arrived closer to the start time to participate with their pot luck dishes. A great combination of families and people of all ages from the youngest being a baby to the older ones among us.

This year we went with ham as the main dish which went over quite well with those who were there. In addition there were several other interesting dishes that members brought. All was yummy with few left overs. There was lots of conversation during dinner covering topics from rigs and trails to families and children.

After dinner, we all settled in for the gift exchange. This year started off with thievery within a couple of gifts which made the exchange much more interesting than the last couple of years. Often parents sent their children into the fray to either pick or steel, some had multiple opportunities as the previous selections were stolen. One item made it to the three times stolen safety. Finally all the numbers were up and the evening settled into some conversation, then we started the cleanup task.

With all of the conflicts that limited the size of the party, the new board decided that the next holiday party will be post New Years to allow more members to participate without the conflicts of work and family parties that the month of December brings.

Thank you to all who were able to attend and enjoy the coming years wheeling and club get-togethers!

Casey M., Robert B. and myself (apologies to anyone I missed). Our time prior to the parade was split between decorating, socializing and looking at each others rigs.

Our staging area was slightly closer to the start this year just south of 15th and Mission Streets in front of the Shady Rest Motel. When the entries ahead of us started to move we mounted up and started out way down the route. Members waved to those on the sides of the street waving back to the entries.

It was a very fun evening for all and as we departed we still heard the echoes of the same phrase we heard during the parade, "Merry Christmas!"

Christmas Party: We need to think about changing the way its done to get more participation and get the cost down. There is the possibility of having it at Kenn's place after New Years.

If anyone has any ideas for runs for the coming year now would be a good time to speak up. Run suggestions are always welcome at any time, but the newly elected board will be meeting later this month to set a calendar of events for the coming year.

Meeting minutes for the Newly elected board of officers:

Budget for the year:

PO Box	$86
Bank Fees	$120
Newsletter	$60
Postage	$50
Website	$125
Christmas Party		$250
Spring Fling	$150

Discussions:

There was a calendar of events proposed for the year, but I'll let Andrew post that up when he is ready.

There was discussion of donating the remaining funds from 2016 to off road access groups, and that needs to be discussed with the members and voted on.

There was talk of getting more large decals made and we need to look into costs.

We would also like to start putting together new member packets.

Also, the idea of moving the elections away from Christmas and summer and having them in March was brought up.

Randy proposed that we make Mark Booker a lifetime member of the club if he is agreeable to that.

The next board meeting was set for Coyote Lake, see you there!
